WHO'S WHO IN THE # AMERICAN JUNIOR COLLEGES

DEDICATION

In keeping with our country's bicentennial celebration, Volume 21 of the Uticanite is dedicated to Crispus Attucks, one of America's first martyrs. As the first American to die for the cause of independence, Crispus Attucks gained a significant position in the history of the United States. The fact that he was the first black American to die for freedom's cause is of even greater significance for Utica Junior College.

As we reflect upon our heritage, to observe our present and contemplate our future, we note with pride that Crispus Attucks gave his all for the concepts of liberty and justice. Can we do less?

PHYSICAL EDUCATION BUILDING,

UTICA JUNIOR COLLEGE

BIGGS, WEIR ARCHITECTS

My fellow Uticanites, as editor of the '76 Uticanite, I express the hope that this pictorial account will serve as a mirror of your dreams, aspirations, and realities. Every moment cannot be put into a photo, but we have attempted to capture the essence of our life this year. We hope that as you look into this memory book, you will be proud to own it as a part of your everyday life while attending UJC.

We, the annual staff, would like to give a special applause of thanks to Mr. McCarty, Mr. Harper, Mr. Porter, and the student body for their cooperative services throughout this past year.

This Uticanite is our finished work. As you view it, you will see Hinds County Agricultural High as a challenge of which to be proud.

We can remember when the Uticanite was but a word, yet we watched it change into a challenge as it became a reality.

Our work on the Uticanite has brought us fears and headaches when we could not find good photos, meet deadlines, and design original layouts. Of course, the happy moment did come—when the last page was sent to the publishers.

We hope that when you browse through the 1976 Uticanite, you will experience many joyous moments reflecting the past.

As editor, I would like to thank Mr. McCarty, Mrs. Hampton, Miss McKenzie, Mr. Porter, and Mr. Bell for their help in making this endeavor a successful one.
